

Cascade Clamps

Cascade Clamps - Founded in Portland, Oregon in the year 1943, the Cascade Manufacturing Company began as a small machine store employing only four people. Total sales for that initial year amounted to about 60 thousand dollars. The very first recorded sales revenues involved the assembly and machining of stainless steel valves, pipe fittings and various parts. During five years of operation, the company had stretched to 40 workers and their yearly sales volume had risen to 330 thousand dollars. At present, Cascade is amongst the leading international manufacturers in the material handling business.

Production and design of the company's initial hydraulic cylinder paved the way in Cascade's aggressive pursuit of new business opportunities. Over the past sixty years, the material handling business has grown into a highly advanced area and Cascade has proudly performed a part on this progress. Cascade at the moment continues to grow as the premier provider of lift truck accessories and various related products. The business feels assured in their skill to continue to lead the way in the business by understanding buyer's requirements in the future and remaining aggressive within the international market.

Throughout the 1950's, Cascade started to manufacture, design, and sell its hydraulic attachments. A brand new facility was made in the year 1956, to accommodate all plant operations and offices in Portland, Oregon, which continues to be the company's present center of operations. Subsequent to fifteen years of business, total workers reached a hundred and eighty staff and sales had reached practically $2,300,000.

1959 in Springfield, Ohio a second manufacturing facility was built. nineteen sixty marked Cascade's preliminary transfer into the global world of the material handling industry when the company recognized interest in the Netherlands, England, and Australia.

The business changed its name to Cascade Corporation in the year 1964. In the year 1965, Cascade went public with a preliminary offering of two hundred thousand shares of common stock. The business has expanded its production plants within the United States with locations in Portland, Oregon, Springfield, Ohio, and Warner Robins, Georgia. Cascade merchandise are manufactured worldwide due to numerous subsidiary operations. In 1994, a new plant was completed in Almere, the Netherlands which is Cascade's European headquarters. This plant is designed to be the essential customer support centre.

Continuing to develop, Cascade expanded their product offering further in the year 1996 and the year 1997 with the remarkable acquisition of five firms, together with the international best in forks, the Kenhar Corporation.
